

Stakeholders Workshop

From ocean observation to innovation

Please come join us for this workshop at the European Maritime Day 2014!

Date & time Monday 19 May 2014
9:00 – 10:30

Venue Kaisen Saal
Bremen Congress Centre
Bremen, Germany

Objectives In this session we will discuss possible ways to enhance European marine and maritime leadership through innovation and research in the field of ocean observation.

The workshop will present the state of the art in ocean observation and surveillance from deep-sea to remote sensing and point on the limits as well as the future potential of the projects and programmes. It will also explain how policy-makers, academia, NGOs, and the private sector can access and use infrastructures, data and services.

Programme Introduction
Prof. Karin Lochte - Alfred-Wegener-Institut Helmholtz-Zentrum für Polar- und Meeresforschung, Bremerhaven, Germany

Ocean observation: future potential and limits today
Prof. Martin Visbeck - Helmholtz Centre for Ocean Research, Kiel, Germany

Joint use of research infrastructures: meeting our needs for Arctic ocean observation and marine research
Dr. Magnus Tannerfeldt - International relations, Swedish Polar Research Secretariat

FixO³: your opportunity to access world-class marine knowledge
Dr. Luisa Cristini - National Oceanography Centre, Southampton, UK

Ocean observation: Innovation through industry
Nick O'Neill - SLR Consulting Ireland

Genomic Observatories and Ocean Sampling Day
Prof. Chris Bowler - CNRS, Paris, France

The workshop is organized by:

Dr. Angelika Dummermuth angelika.dummermuth@awi.de

National Oceanography Centre
NATURAL ENVIRONMENT RESEARCH COUNCIL

For information, please contact:

Dr. Luisa Cristini
luisa.cristini@noc.ac.uk